The History of BC Soccer Adult Provincial Cups: 1892 to date

Introduction

Since 1892, British Columbian adult amateur soccer teams have competed to be crowned provincial champions. The history of the Provincial Cup covers the story of the growth and development of the sport in the province over the last 130 years. Until 1979, all competitions were for men.

This report covers the history of the ten adult provincial championships held annually, men's and women's, of different ages and calibres. It has been completed to compile and celebrate the history of BC's Provincial Cup play. Winning provincial championships is a tremendous achievement, and this report is designed to preserve and help recognize these teams, players and game officials.

The report is complete in terms of the winners of Provincial Cups, and Open Cup finals dates, venues, teams and scores. However, there are information gaps, particularly in the record of the Final Matches, for which we have not yet found winning teams' full player list and scorers and the game officials in some years. See page 14 if you can help fill information gaps. This report will be updated as more information comes to light.

Men's Open 'A' Cup

The first BC Provincial Cup was held just three years after the first recorded soccer club in BC was formed in Victoria in August 1889. Vancouver Island was soccer's first hotbed, as Victoria's naval base was home to many British sailors and the Nanaimo district coalfields attracted European miners, who brought association football with them. The first BC Provincial Cup took place just 20 years after the first FA Cup in England.

From 1892 to 1904, the trophy for provincial play was the "Nanaimo Football Association Grand Challenge Cup", which the Nanaimo district had commissioned for its own championship in 1891. In 1891, four Nanaimo region clubs founded the "BC Football Association". This was not a provincial governing body, its only role being the organising committee for a provincial championship which two to six teams entered each year. The Coal City clubs ensured control of the tournament by initially neglecting to advise clubs from other cities of meetings and decreeing all AGMs and the Final must be held in Nanaimo. The Nanaimo Challenge Cup was presented as the trophy.

In this 13-year period, Island teams won every championship, perhaps due to their strength, but perhaps also due to Mainland disenchantment that competition was not open and fair. In the first year, (New) Westminster AFC entered and won their semi-final 4-0 at home. Following a protest that the goalposts were too tall, a replay in Nanaimo was ordered by the (Nanaimo) executive. Westminster refused to play, and no other mainland team entered for eight years. However, there is no doubt other clubs were invited to enter, and the Island had strong teams. Nanaimo Rangers won the first cup, and three in total, with Wellington, Victoria AFC and Garrison (Esquimalt) also repeat winners. Island supremacy was demonstrated in an 1899 invitational tournament in Vancouver, with Wellington Rangers, Nanaimo Thistles, Vancouver AFC and Kamloops. Wellington, then the provincial champions, defeated Vancouver 4-1 in the final.

In 1904, the Rev. William Bolton of Victoria proposed a new inclusive association be formed to govern soccer in BC. This BC Football Association included both Island centres and the mainland. Soccer was also played widely in the Interior at the time and since. However, due to distance, population, and especially different playing seasons and entry regulations, BC's Open Cups have been almost entirely coastal competitions.

The responsibilities of soccer's first governing body in BC included arranging the "BC Cup" from 1905, which Vancouver Island teams won the next five times. In 1911, Sir Richard McBride, BC's Premier, presented the "McBride Shield", which was the Provincial Cup trophy through to 1921. Regional honours were split. Victoria West won in 1911, Cumberland United won in 1920 and 1921, but Coquitlam Ranchers won twice (1912,1915) for the mainland's first victories. The Shield was not awarded four times in those 11 years due to disputes or protests over ineligible players.

In 1922, the "Daily Province Cup" (named for the Vancouver newspaper) was presented to the BC Football Association by its publisher, Walter Nichol, the Lieutenant-Governor. This trophy, on display in BC Soccer's office, has been emblematic of the men's provincial championship for 100 years. Multiple winners have included the most-storied teams in BC's soccer history: Westminster Royals, St. Andrews, North Shore United, Victoria West, Gorge, Firefighters and Columbus.

The mainland has dominated since 1935, except from 1975 to 1984 when the Island won seven times. In total, mainland teams have been champions 85 times; the Island has won 40 times. All winning teams are from Greater Vancouver, Greater Victoria and the mid-Island coalfields. However, runners-up have come from Powell River (Elks 1927, Villa 1995), Duncan (Native Sons, 1933) and Kamloops (Merchants, 1984). Aldergrove Utd. (2017) was the easternmost Fraser Valley finalist.

While competition has been for amateur teams, some teams, notably the Pacific Coast League in the 1940s-1960s, were openly semi-pro teams.

Since 1961, the men's A Cup has doubled as the qualifier for the Canadian men's club national championships, which BC teams have won 40 times since Nanaimo's win in 1923.

Women's Open (A) Cup

Women's soccer leagues were instituted in the mid-1970s, but they initially played outside BC Soccer. The Women's Open A Cup was instituted in 1982 when women's leagues joined the Association.

The first recorded women's soccer game in BC had been in 1933, between two Nanaimo softball teams, the Northfield Wideawakes and the Brechin Dodo Kids. Northfield won that game and a rematch a month later, with goals from Dot Beban.

Girls' soccer was recorded in some BC schools in the 1950s, but the 1970s saw female soccer firmly established. A First Nations women's tournament was won by Alert Bay in 1974, a mainland women's league first played in 1973-1974, the BC Girls Soccer Association was formed in 1975 and varsity women's soccer was established.

After rapid growth, in 1981 two lower mainland women's leagues joined BC Soccer and became eligible for provincial and national championships, followed by Island women's teams in 1982.

The inaugural Women's Open 'A Cup' was won by Burnaby Edmonds in 1982. Richmond teams won three of the first five competitions, following which two dynasties dominated the Provincial Cup. UBC Alumni, whose players included Andrea Neil and Silvana Burtini, won five successive years from 1996 to 2000. In 2004 Surrey United started their remarkable run of 11 straight championship victories through to 2014. The champions represent BC in Canada Soccer's national championship, the Jubilee Trophy, BC teams winning ten times since 1987.

In forty years of high-level provincial women's soccer competition, BC players have risen to great prominence nationally and internationally. 47 British Columbia women have played for Canada's senior national team. More than half of these national team players, 27, also won a BC Soccer Women's Open Championship Gold Medal with their clubs.

Most Titles, Streaks, Margins, Medals and Scorers

54 clubs have their names engraved on BC's Open Championship trophies. The men's A Cup has been won 124 times, by 41 different clubs. 13 clubs have won women's titles in the 39 years the competition been held. Which clubs have won the most? Who has scored hat-tricks in the final Matches?

All-Time Most BC Open Championships

Surrey United women's team has the record for the most BC Open Championship titles, with 13 since 2004. The men's leaders are Vancouver Firefighters with 12 between 1954 and 1998 and North Shore United with 11 between 1933 and 1966. Vic West holds the record for the longest winning span, their seven titles being won over the 74 years from 1911 to 1984. Columbus men and UBC Alumni women each have six titles to their name, and another 18 clubs at least three victories.

While holding the record of eight national club championships, Westminster Royals won just four BC titles. Before 1961, a separate "Dominion Series" decided BC's representative in club nationals. From 1953 to 1960, the Royals won four Canadian titles, but no BC Championship.

Longest Consecutive Winning Streaks

Surrey United won eleven straight women's championships from 2004 to 2014, an achievement that no-one has come close to matching. UBC Alumni women recorded five straight wins in the 1990s. The longest men's winning streak is held by Victoria West with four wins from 1979 to 1982. Among the teams winning three straight titles, the first was Victoria AFC in 1900 to 1902.

Most Goals, Biggest Victories

The largest goal tally in any BC "A Cup" Final was in 1994, when Coquitlam Strikers Women beat Gorge FC by 9-0. In the 1940s, two men's teams scored six goals in a final match. In the third game of a series in 1940, Radials beat North Shore United by 6-1, and in 1945 North Shore United came out ahead 6-2 against Victoria West.

On three other occasions, a team won the final by a five-goal margin. In the second game in 1905, Garrison (from Esquimalt) beat Vancouver Celtic by a 5-0 margin. In the 1979 final, Vic West's men scored five unanswered goals against Croatia, Surrey Marlins women achieving the same result against North Shore United in 1992.

1979	Victoria West - M	5-0	Croatia SC
1992	Surrey Marlins - W	5-0	N. Shore Utd

Cup Winners' Medals

Although some team lists are incomplete, we believe the leading Provincial A Cup gold medal winner is Kate Qually of Surrey United women's team, who appeared in 13 of their winning teams between 2004 and 2023. From 1985 to 2004, Hall of Fame Goalkeeper Wendy Hawthorne won 11 cups with four different clubs. Three other Surrey United players reached double figures from 2004 on: Nicole Stewart with 11 wins and Theresa Nuttall and Bianca Wilkinson with ten wins each. Nuttall holds the record for consecutive victories with ten straight from 2005 to 2014.

Provisionally, on the male side, the leading Provincial Cup-winners appear to be eight provincial titles won by Jimmy Spencer of North Shore United (1937-1949) and by Vancouver Firefighters' Art Hughes (1951-1965). Frank Ambler (Multiple clubs, 1942-1955) and two Firefighters, Ken Pears (1955-1967) and Doug Greig (1950-1963), each recorded seven Provincial Cup wins.

While referee information for many years' finals is missing, the "All-Time Leading Provincial Final Referee" title undoubtedly goes to Dan Kulai, available records showing him as having officiated 13 finals between 1945 and 1966, but he very likely refereed numerous others as well. (Kulai also won five Provincial Cups as a player from 1928-1939).

Hat-Tricks

15 players have scored 16 hat-tricks in Final Matches, twelve being scored by men, four by women. Only Bob Forgie in 1916 scored four goals in one game, and Frank Ambler is the only person to have repeated, with three goals in the 1947 and the 1948 Finals. Ambler holds another record - scoring finals goals for five winning teams (from 1942 to 1955). Megan Blaker scored in each of four straight victories by Surrey United from 2006 to 2009.

The History of the Adult Provincial "B Cup", Masters and Under 21 Cups

While the Open Provincial Championships played for the "A Cup" is held to find the best amateur soccer team in the province, additional adult championships have been held to provide competition for players below this open competitive level. The "B Cup" is an open-age Challenge Cup for "recreational" players below the "A Cup" calibre, which has also given more opportunity for Interior teams to be involved. Age-limited cup competitions are also held for players newly graduated from youth and at the older-age "Masters" levels.

Men's (Recreational) 'B' Cup

Various BC championships were held below the Open calibre for Intermediate and/or Junior men's teams at various times before the 1970s, research on which is in progress.

In 1978, the first BC Summer Games was held in Penticton, with men's soccer being one of the sports included for play between eight regions of the province. With the help of BC Soccer's appointed liaison, the BC Summer Games served as a province-wide competitive tournament for teams below the A Cup level, in effect the equivalent of the current B Cup. Champions came from across the province in these years, Kamloops in particular claiming four victories between 1989 and 1994.

In 1996, when the BC Summer Games switched to a youth event, BC Soccer filled the void by introducing its own "B Cup" championships, named for North Shore's Keith Millar, for many years the liaison to the BC Summer Games. Until 2010, BC Soccer's B Cup was a four-day tournament held in early-summer, but after many Interior leagues decided not to participate, the B Cup has been an exclusively coastal competition held in April-May with the other cups.

Women's (Recreational) 'B' Cup

Beginning with the BC Summer Games held in Richmond in 1979, a province-wide recreational level tournament (equivalent to the current B Cup) was held as part of these games through to 1995. Teams from Burnaby won the first three years' competitions. In the 1980s, Surrey Marlins won three years straight and Chehalis-Agassiz Rainbow Stars won two years in succession.

In 1996 the BC Summer Games moved away from adult play, so BC Soccer introduced its own B Cup for women, the trophy named for Leeta Sokalski, the association's first female President. Also initially a summer coastal/interior event, this was also switched to April/May timing in 2011. Since 1996, there has been a rich variety of cup winners from across the Coastal region, no city providing winners in two successive years.

Men's Masters Cup

In 1991, BC Soccer introduced the first Masters level provincial championship for male players aged over 30, recognizing that playing careers were lasting longer, with increased desire to play competitively in age-restricted leagues and competitions.

In 2000, BC introduced provincial championships for men's Over-35 play, reflecting Canada Soccer switching its regional Master's championships to the over-35 age group. The Over-30 competition remained in parallel for three years, since when all men's Master's competition has been for Over-35s. The Master's championship trophy is named for Deryl Hughes, the long-serving BC Soccer Registrar from 1969 to 1998.

Many of the clubs with success in men's open age play have later been successful in men's Master's competitions as their players aged. Vancouver Firefighters won the first two Master's championships and have won six times in total, a record matched by the Columbus club. Westside and Surrey United have each won three times. Provincial championship winners represent the province in Canada Soccer's Western regional men's masters' championships held each September.

In 2018, BC Soccer introduced a second tier of men's masters' play, the Master's B Cup, and in 2022 introduced the Over-45 championship. Columbus won the first two Over-45 titles in 2022 and 2023.

Women's Classics/Masters Cup

In 2001, a provincial age-restricted championship for women aged over-30 was instituted, which leads to Canada Soccer's regional competition. Originally called the "Classics" level, following Canada Soccer, this level has been renamed Masters play in recent years.

Over nearly two decades of competition, four women's clubs have dominated the winners' list in succession.

The first six Classics/Masters women's competitions were all won by Gorge FC, followed by three wins by Meralomas from 2007 to 2009. Next, Supra from South Surrey won four times in five years and then Coquitlam Metro-Ford won five straight from 2015 to 2019.

In 2019, BC Soccer introduced a second tier of women's masters' play, the Master's B Cup

Under 21 Cups

There was an Under-21 level of play in BC since soccer's early years. Until 1936 "Junior" play was in effect the B Cup level of play in BC, but Canada Soccer then determined all "Junior" play must be Under 21. Many BC teams and leagues then called junior switched to adult leagues for "intermediate" competitions and the BC Junior association merged with BC Juvenile. For the first few years of the BC Youth Sun Tournament, until 1957, there was a Junior (Under 21) division, after which this level was moved from "BC Junior and Juvenile Soccer" into adult soccer. Research on the early years provincial cup play at this age-group is not complete.

In modern times, BC Soccer provided provincial championships for teams in Under 21 leagues starting in 2001 for men and 2004 for women.

The men's championship, named for Doug Day of Victoria, was competed for between Vancouver Island and mainland U-21 league teams. The women's U-21 Cup was last held in 2015, as entries only came forward from the lower mainland.

Winners were very varied. In 20 years of men's play, only Port Moody (2007-2012) and Guildford (2013-2016) won three times, while no women's club recorded more than two titles.

The last men's competition was held in 2022, after which this age group of provincial cup play was ended for males and females.

Author: Roger Barnes February 2021. Last Update Dec 2023

This report was completed to compile and preserve the history of BC's Provincial Cup competitions since the inception in 1892. Winning provincial championships is a tremendous achievement, and this report helps recognize these teams, players and referees. Winning teams are also included in the "Roll of Honour" on the heritage.bcsoccer.net web-site.

The primary sources have been original research of newspaper records; BC Soccer trophies, records, tournament programs and annual reports; the scholarship of four invaluable reference books; the BC Soccer community and other sources. The four reference books are:

Robert Janning: Westcoast Reign (1892-1905)
Dave Unwin: From the Sidelines (History of Victoria West AA and Vancouver Island soccer)
Colin Jose: The Story of Soccer in Canada, and associated web-site.
Canada Soccer: Story of the Pacific Coast League 1939-1973

BC Soccer Heritage is especially grateful for the help of the soccer community of players, coaches and officials who, with the encouragement of Rob Brown, helped compile the details of many modern-day Final Matches.

For reading ease, the names of various bodies (e.g., Canada Soccer, BC Soccer) are mostly referred by their current/ latest names. Similarly, "soccer" is usually used, rather than "football" or "association football" common in past times.

The report may have errors and there is information missing. In particular there are final matches for which we have not yet found the winning team full player list, scorers or game officials. If you can correct information or help fill these gaps, please contact Roger Barnes (604-803-2956 or roger@rogerbarnes.ca) or Rob Brown (604-796-0138 or regoli@shaw.ca).

BC Soccer Heritage is compiling the documents and history of soccer in BC. If you have cup programs, reports or other memorabilia of any aspect of soccer's history in BC you can donate or lend for scanning, please contact Roger or Rob.
